

APSSC

American Psychological Society

Student Caucus

Do you have an interest in psychology? Are you looking to further your education in the field of psychology? Would you like to be involved in research in psychology? If so, this is the club for you! APSSC, CSU Fullerton chapter is currently accepting new members, so signup today!

Due to recent changes in APSSC, the CSU Fullerton Chapter will need to apply separately for APS. For more information, go to <http://www.psychologicalscience.org/join/>*

Goals of APSSC: To promote research and foster an environment in which research can be explored and enhanced.

Why join? To gain research experience, and get information regarding graduate school and other opportunities after graduation.

As a member you will:

- Attend meetings once a month*
- Participate in the organization, publicity, and set-up of Psych Day activities*
- Attend and help organize workshops (including resume/vita writing, poster preparation, presentations by professors about their research, information on graduate school, etc.)*
- Help with fundraisers for the club and members*

Who may join? Any psychology student who is interested in research or furthering their education in psychology

When can you join? NOW! There is an annual fee of $10. You can make checks payable to APSSC, CSUF. Include your payment with the application to the psychology office (H830M) or at the APSSC meetings.
